

FRITZ HANSEN

ATLANTIS
PRODUCT FACT SHEET

ATLANTIS

Create cool shade with the Atlantis umbrella and relax with outdoor dining under the summer sun. While the textile has been leather-reinforced to enhance its strength, the foot of the wooden pole is metal-reinforced to protect against wear and scratches when placed in the foot. The top metal fixings and protective parts of the foot are made of aluminium for a more exclusive finish.

SPECIFICATIONS

Spun polyester: The all-weather parasol textile made from 100% spun polyester does not wrinkle nor shrink and is a colour-fast material resistant to stains.

Solution dyed acrylic: The acrylic fibre used is a synthetic but cotton-like textile with exceptional features for outdoor usage, making it extremely colour and lightfast as well as water- and dirt-repellent and mildew-resistant.

Wood: Kapur wood is an excellent choice for parasol poles due to its strength and weather-resistant properties. The wood comes from Indonesia and is FSC-certified (100%). It has been lacquered and will slowly develop a patina over time because of the surface treatment.
